Dear Customers,

In light of recent announcements, from local and state government officials concerning the COVID-19 outbreak, it is important for our customers to be aware that Sigma Sales, Inc. is considered an “essential business.” As such, we will remain open during this unprecedented time in our country.

Our first priority is to our employees. We have implemented several measures to mitigate the impact of the virus. We have implemented social distancing, cleaning measures and other activities mentioned by the CDC Guidance for Business and Employers.

Our second priority is to continue to support the manufacturing and fabrication shops in the Tulsa and NE Oklahoma marketplace which are also essential businesses. Sigma Sales provides a service that is critical to the supply chain and infrastructure of manufacturers and fabrication businesses. I want to assure that we are open and will remain open during this crisis unless directed to do otherwise. Sigma Sales prides itself on providing quality industrial tools and supplies with personal service and attention our customers expect.

Thank you for your business over the years and God bless you and your families!!

Jim Rogers
